About Us

Founded by the forward-thinking minds of the Vietnam Herbal Cooperative in 2020, Agalic presents a diverse product line that skillfully combines the art of crafting fermented citrus fruit skins, peels and roots, transforming them into wholesome healthy snacks and beverages. Our offerings are meticulously designed to safeguard health, catering to individuals of all age groups, and making a positive impact on the environment. Rooted in the pristine Ngoc Linh mountains and nature reserve of Kon Tum province of Vietnam, we seamlessly blend the principles of organic farming, ethnic community development, and an unwavering commitment to wellness to create inventive products that promote well-being and uplift ethnic local communities.

More than just a business, Agalic is a social endeavor dedicated to empowering the lives of ethnic groups in the economically disadvantaged mountainous province of Kon Tum, Vietnam. Actively supporting the livelihoods and economic opportunities of these communities, we ensure their ability to preserve the surrounding forests. Operating as a cooperative linked with dozens of others, and with plans to expand to hundreds in the future, Agalic empowers all participants to become small-scale entrepreneurs, fostering real, self-sustaining, and effective economic distribution.

Our Farm

In the heartland of Vietnam, where the verdant landscapes of Kon Tum, Dak Nong, Dak Lak, and Ba Ria Vung Tau provinces converge, a groundbreaking initiative named Agalic is taking root. These four distinct farm locations serve as the cradle of Agalic's mission to harness the bounties of nature, specifically the roots that give birth to the exceptional Agalic products.

Dak Na Commune, Tu Mơ Rông district Kon Tum province:

Dak Na Commune, nestled in Tu Mơ Rông district, is where Agalic's farming journey begins. Here, roots are cultivated amidst pristine landscapes, forming the foundation of Agalic's unique products.

Eabung Commune, Easup district Dak Lak province

In Eabung Commune, Dak Lak province, Agalic farms organically, blending the region's cultural heritage with the art of fermenting citrus fruit skins, peels, and roots.

Nam Binh Commune, Daksong district Dak Nong province

In Dak Nong province's Nam Binh Commune, Agalic cultivates roots in fertile soil and a favorable climate. These roots are transformed into wholesome snacks and beverages, reflecting Agalic's dedication to health and wellness.

Ngaĩ Giao Town, Châu Đức district Ba Ria Vung Tau province

In Ngaĩ Giao Town, Ba Ria Vung Tau province, Agalic's roots extend beyond farming, contributing to local economic and social development. This fosters a sustainable cycle that benefits both people and the environment.
